

Tomorrow's world

James Dyson gives Conor Pope a rare glimpse of the future in Dyson HQ

Shock tactics
Entertain the kids over midterm with some frightful fun

Memories of Maynooth
Fifty years after graduation, the men who trained as seminarians in 1966 talk to Kathy Sheridan

A thousand words
Photographer Eric Luke looks at Irish life over four decades

CLEW BAY INSPIRATION

Autumn is the perfect time for a creative getaway, and the beautiful Wild Atlantic Way offers lots of inspiration. Following a recent restoration, Killadangan House in Westport, Co Mayo, is being launched as a residential centre, with courses and programmes in activity, health and learning.

Sitting in the shadow of Croagh Patrick, the centre offers both pre-designed and bespoke programmes – from watersports and languages, to psychotherapy and massage – for groups of five to eight adults. Upcoming programmes include genealogy, health/strength and nutrition, and the well-being-orientated Alexander technique.

As a sister project to the Clare Island Lighthouse, Killadangan House is a sanctuary-style residence. The cosy sittingroom and panoramic views over Clew Bay will inspire as surely as they relax. killadanganhouse.com

Gráinne Loughran